Volunteers at 90.1FM KKFI are as diverse as the community served by the radio station. Young and not-so-young, they come from all backgrounds and from many different life experiences.

KKFI volunteers are truly the backbone of the radio station – a central tenet of the organization’s mission. A small staff manages technical operations and fundraising, but the rest of the work, including most of the on-air programming, comes from volunteers.

Volunteer opportunities include:

- Active Membership – “Owner” of the station.
- Board of Directors & Committee service – Programming, Finance, Communications, Membership, Governance and more.
- On-air Programmer/DJ/Host/Engineer.
- Production & engineering of podcasts & syndicated programs.
- Record & edit interviews & on-air announcements.
- Front desk reception at KKFI Studios.
- Data entry & analysis.
- Catalog the music library & distribute new music to DJs.
- Represent KKFI at community functions and events.
- Fundraising.
